ALL IN THE FAMILY
 Ron and Mary Beth Wampler steering the next generation of Ron Wampler Builder, Inc. into the 22nd century.....
 Ryan Wampler graduated from Indiana State University with a degree in construction management. Ryan states, "What I have learned from my father is relationships are the most important thing in business."
 Jerod Nellis is the nephew of Ron and Mary Beth. He graduated from Indiana Kelley School of Business with a degree in marketing and holds an Indiana Real Estate License. Jerod shares the same philosophy, "The difference today is that everything changes quickly. Custom home building is beyond the typical pick-up truck builders. The tools we use today, the way we make buying decisions, technology, and the way we manage our business has to be a little more businesslike."
 The Wampplers see history repeating itself. As the next generation brings in new ideas, technology and much needed energy, Ron and Mary Beth are there to mentor and teach through their years of experience.
