

Favorite shows return from TV hibernation

A number of popular and critically acclaimed programs return from their long winter's nap.

- Chris participates in an experiment in parental responsibility on "Everybody Hates Chris" (8 p.m., CW, TV-PG).

He and his classmates are encouraged to look out for a single egg. Some discover that fatherhood is not all it's cracked up to be.

Kevin McDonough

Aaron Sorokin promised the show would place greater emphasis on romantic comedy. The good news is, we'll probably be hearing fewer awkward diatribes about the Christian right.

The bad news is, we'll probably have to endure lovey-dovey dialogue between Matt (Matthew Perry) and Harriet (Sarah Paulson), a couple with little chemistry.

Danny's (Bradley Whitford) pursuit of Jordan (Amanda Peet) seems far more far-fetched but has the potential to be much more amusing.

Tonight's other highlights

- Christine believes she turned her ex into the ultimate catch on "The New Adventures of Old Christine" (9:30 p.m., CBS, TV-PG, D).

- Young couples ages 18 to 21 discuss their upcoming weddings on the documentary series "Engaged and Underage" (9:30 p.m., MTV).

Cult choice

A teen (Ellen Muth, "Dead Like Me") comes out of the closet only to have her mother (Stockard Channing) slam the door in the 2000 drama "The Truth About Jane" (9:50 p.m., Lifetime Movie Network).

Series notes

Opposites clash on "Wife Swap" (8 p.m., ABC, TV-PG) ... Awkward moments on "The Class" (8:30 p.m., CBS, TV-PG) ... Marjorie's return makes waves on "What About Brian" (10 p.m., ABC, TV-14).

Kevin Spacey and Alicia Keys appear on "Late Show With David Letterman" (11:35 p.m., CBS) ... Jay Leno hosts Jennifer Garner, Ty Pennington and Bow Wow on "The Tonight Show" (11:35 p.m., NBC) ... Howard Stern, Forest Whitaker and Nas appear on "Jimmy Kimmel Live" (12:05 a.m., ABC).

ACCENT ON PEOPLE

SAO PAULO, Brazil Bundchen blames families for anorexia

Gisele Bundchen has entered Brazil's growing debate over anorexia, saying families are to blame — not the fashion industry.

"I never suffered this problem because I had a very strong family base," the super-model said.

"The parents are responsible, not fashion."

The 26-year-old model was in Brazil for the annual Fashion Rio, a weeklong showcase for some of the country's top designers.

Anorexia became a hot issue in Brazil after the deaths of four young women last month, including 21-year-old model Ana Carolina Reston.

Splashed across the front pages of newspapers nationwide, the subject has held morbid fascination for Brazilians, and was even the theme of a popular TV soap opera. It also sparked a debate within Brazil's fashion industry.

"Everybody knows the standard for models is to be thin," Bundchen said.

"But you can't generalize and say that all models are anorexic."

NEW YORK 'Titanic' problem: DiCaprio considered quitting acting

Leonardo DiCaprio wanted to give up acting for a time after the hit movie "Titanic."

DiCaprio was back to being considered a "another piece of cute meat" after the 1997 film's spectacular box office success, an image he had wanted to get away after his days on the cover of teen magazines, he said.

DICAPRIO

"It was pretty disheartening to be objectified like that. I wanted to stop acting for a little bit," he said at an Oscar panel discussion with other actors.

"It changed my life in a lot of ways, but at the same time, I can't say that it didn't give me opportunities," he said.

"It made me, for the first time, in control of my career."

After many successful movies and critical acclaim, DiCaprio said he loves acting.

"There's no other art form in the world that affects me more. There's nothing that I walk away from feeling transformed by the way I do with cinema," he said.

DiCaprio starred in a cast featuring Jack Nicholson, Matt Damon and others in "The Departed," which earned Martin Scorsese a Golden Globe for best director.

NEW YORK Crocodile hunter's daughter onstage in NYC

The media-savvy 8-year-old daughter of the late "Crocodile Hunter" Steve Irwin is doing her bit to promote her native Australia, adding music to her prowess with animals.

Bindi Irwin appeared on stage Saturday as part of the annual Australia Week tourism promotion, singing about snakes and eagles while fellow cast members held live animals.

Bindi's father was killed by a stingray last fall while filming one of his popular television documentaries on Australia's Great Barrier Reef.

At an appearance Friday in Washington, Bindi said she is ready to continue her father's work spreading the wonder of wildlife.

"I'm going to become a wildlife warrior just like he was," she said at the National Press Club.
