Maryland 89 No. 5 North Carolina 87

COLLEGE PARK, Md. — D.J. Strawberry scored a career-high 27 points, and Maryland rallied from a 12-point deficit in the second half to beat North Carolina and extend its winning streak to five games.

No. 17 Vanderbilt 67 Kentucky 65

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Derrick Byars grabbed a rebound off his own missed foul shot and scored to give the Commodores their first lead with 25.5 seconds left, and Vanderbilt held on for the win.

No. 18 Duke 67 St. John's 50

NEW YORK (AP) — Greg Paulus scored 19 points, DeMarcus Nelson added 14 points and seven rebounds and the Blue Devils won their fourth straight, defeating St. John's.

SUNDAY'S NBA ROUNDUP

The Associated Press

Nets 101 Knicks 92

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Vince Carter scored 40 points and Mikki Moore added 19 points to lead New Jersey to a come-from-behind victory against New York that moved the Nets (27-30) to two games ahead of their rivals in both the Atlantic Division and Eastern Conference standings.

Stephon Marbury paced the Knicks with 22 points. Eddy Curry had 18 and Channing Frye added 15. The Knicks (25-32) took control of the contest in the early going, thanks to Marbury, who scored 13 points in the first quarter.

Suns 115 Hawks 106

ATLANTA — Amare Stoudemire scored a season-high 43 points, and Phoenix beat Atlanta to improve to 13-0 in road games against the Eastern Conference. Stoudemire added 16 rebounds, three blocks and six assists. He made 15 of 17 free throws.

Lakers 102 Warriors 85

OAKLAND, Calif. — Maurice Evans scored a career-high 26 points and Kobe Bryant also had 26 in Los Angeles' seventh straight win against Golden State. Brian Cook added 11 points in the Lakers' second straight win after a season-worst six-game losing streak.

Philadelphia on Wednesday as they try to become the first NBA team to sweep its interconference road schedule. Joe Johnson, who helped lead Atlanta to a 120-111 win at Phoenix on Feb. 9, led the Hawks with 28 points. Marvin Williams added 23 points and 10 rebounds.

● Kenseth

cars were restarted, Harvick found he had a deflating left front tire and had to pit. He wound up 17th, the last car on the lead lap.

"It's really nice to get some of our points back from the Daytona deal," added Kenseth, referring to the 50 points he and the team were docked in the cheating incident.

"It's a shame," Harvick said about the flat tire. "I don't know if we could have won it, but running with the leader and having a chance to win is what it's all about."

Three-time California winner Gordon, the only other multiple Cup race winner here, jumped past Jeff Burton into second on the restart with four laps to go, but couldn't get close enough to challenge Kenseth the rest of the way. Kenseth won by about six car-lengths.

Defending Cup champion Johnson, who finished 39th at Daytona, also bounced back with a third-place finish Sunday, followed by Burton, Mark Martin, Clint Bowyer, Kurt Busch, Tony Stewart and Kyle Busch.

"If Kevin hadn't had that flat tire, we would have probably finished third or fourth," he said. "It's crazy the way things happen. Last week, he wins the Daytona 500 and, this week, he has that flat tire. It's too bad."

Martin, who lost to Harvick at Daytona by the length of a hood, had another good race and put himself and his new team, Ginn Racing — Formerly MB2 Motorsports — into the series points lead. It's the first time leading the points for the team, now in its 11th year. It also was a good day for Brian Vickers, who gave Team Red Bull its first top 10 finish in the first race the new Toyota team has been able to qualify for.

The race was the debut for unleaded fuel in NASCAR's premier series. Several entries blew engines, including DEI teammates Dale Earnhardt Jr. and Martin Truex Jr. and Evernham Motorsports' Kasey Kahne, but the teams said they would need to examine the engines closely to determine if the fuel had anything to do with the problems.

"We were happy to bring the car home with that new unleaded fuel and now we're all anxious to see what the inside of that engine looks like," Gordon said.
